DANIA — In connection with the 50th anniversary of National Coin Week, the Gold Coast Coin Club is displaying a large exhibit of coins and bills at the Dania Bank.

"We have 450 members in our club, which is 16 years old. We meet on the first and third Thursday of each month at the Rotary Club, 2349 Taylor St.," said Pat Meli, board member of the coin club.

He is also co-chairman of the exhibit at the Dania Bank, which will be on display through Friday. Burt A. Stewart is club president.

Into County System

City Lauds Library Consolidation

The Hollywood City Commission gave a tentative nod Tuesday to the concept of turning the city library over to the county by June 1.

In a report presented to the commission, Dr. Anthony Galluccio, head of the library board, outlined the basic agreement he reached with the new county librarian Steven Whitney for consolidating the facilities.

Instead of a proposed five-year agreement, Galluccio said it would be a 2½ year contract with an option to renew.

ALSO INSTEAD of turning over the city library property to the county system, Hollywood would retain ownership of the assets.

The library board chairman also worked out an agreement to provide that three library employees with seniority would be transferred to the county system with no basic loss in status.

The county has also agreed to provide an annual report to the city on major changes and improvements made to the Hollywood library which is located on City Hall Circle.

GALLUCCIO urged the June 1 date so Hollywood would be "the first on the bandwagon" and as a result receive some special consideration.

City Attorney J. Bart Buetti will research the proposed contract and prepare an ordinance for its adoption at the next commission meeting.

It was speculated Tuesday that the offices above the present library, which include traffic engineering and community services, will be transferred to the third floor of city hall which is now unoccupied.

GALLUCCIO also reported that the county may consider the abandoned A&P supermarket on Johnson Street and State Road 7 as a new library to serve the southwest area of the county.

Mayor David Keating said it was a good idea and pointed out that the store building has 12,000 square feet inside and ample parking outside.
